

Converting Templates to New Software Versions

Article Number: 142 | Rating: Unrated | Last Updated: Thu, Aug 7, 2014 at 1:24 PM

Â The form template structure can change from version to version. Therefore, if you wish to use a form template in a new version of the software, first make a copy of it and store the copy in the folder you will be using for the new version of the software. Keep the old copy as a backup in case you still want to use the old version. Once a form template is opened in a new version of the software it is automatically converted to the new format and cannot be used in the old version any more. Â
