

File Access Error: /webform-1.resx when Accessing a Form

Article Number: 62 | Rating: Unrated | Last Updated: Wed, Aug 27, 2014 at 10:31 AM

This message occurs if the default forms folder on your web server is called "webforms". The default forms folder is the folder that holds each web form and its data when you publish a form. The name "webforms" is a reserved name and should not be used to name a folder. Rename the folder on the web server to fix the issue. You will not need to republish the form, and the URL to submit the form will not change.
